SAM EMERY'S DAY OF LUCK.

WINS BOTH STAKE RACES AT JAMAICA
WITH HIS YOUNGSTERS.

Arasee Wins the Lynbrook and Master Robert the Southold—Lane Allen Defeats Right Royal Easily.

New York, October 26.—A splendid card, supplemented by gorgeous weather, brought easily the biggest crowd of the present meeting to Jamaica this afternoon. The counter attraction at the United Hunts Club's new course did not appreciably affect the attendance. The program included two valuable stake fixtures, the Lynbrook and Southold Handicaps for two-year-olds and all-aged horses, respectively, at the varying distances of six furlongs and a mile and a sixteenth. Andy Blakeley won them both for Sam Emery with his splendid pair of two-year-olds, Arasee and Master Robert.

Their victories were clean-cut and decisive, the odds lucrative against both, and a fortune was taken out of the ring on this unique double success. Master Robert was picked out at the sale last year and bought for $500. This is the Southold victor's last appearance in the east this season, and unless he is sold in the meantime, will be shipped to California and raced at Oakdale during winter.

Momentum so evidently outclassed his opposition for the first race of the day that he was always an odds-on favorite and, taking up the running early, drew away in the stretch into a long lead and won cantering. In a lively struggle for second money, Golden Shore finally outstayed the long shot, L'Amour. Constantia had considerable backing, but failed to justify it.

Green Seal is a proved fast colt, but was overlooked in behalf of Merry England and Kilted. The mistake was apparent when Green Seal forced into the lead directly after the start and won all the way by a safe margin. Merry England ran to his best recent form and was a resolute and fast going second, a clear length in front of Father Bill' Daly's recent acquisition, Killie-crankie. Kilted and Yada ran good races.

The Lynbrook Handicap, at three-quarters, for two-year-olds, went to the lightly weighted Arasee at the end of a good display of speed in which he won all the way, closely pursued by the second choice, Lady Winifred. Hacket was the favorite, but does not run up to his early summer form and was not dangerous at any stage. Fancy finished fast and, outstaying Rialto for third place, might have won but for being unlucky in the early running.

The tabled history of the Lynbrook Handicap is as follows:

Year.	Winner.	Wt.	Jockey.	Val.	Time.
1904	Glenacho	106	T. Burns	$1,650	1:13
1905	Zienap	100	Sewell	1,770	1:14:5
1906	Frank Gill	102	Notter	1,710	1:13
1907	Arasee	99	Delaby	1,540	1:13

Not to be outdone by his stable comrade, Master Robert won the Southold Handicap at a mile and a sixteenth for all ages and, in doing so, gave Sam Emery the unusual experience of winning two stake races in one day. Master Robert was exceedingly fast in the spring racing, but ran like a non-stayer in the summer. He has got over this bravely and is now a stayer and a capital two-year-old. He was not in the least favored, being knocked back and pulled up at the start, but made up ground gradually on the outside and finally won from Gretta Green in the last two strides of a sensational stretch rush. Gretta Green decidedly reversed the result of his last previous meeting with Faust. The latter set the pace to the stretch, but Gretta Green had him well beaten at the finish. Brookdale Nymph was knocked about and unlucky, but hardly ran to her true form at that time.

The tabled history of the Southold Handicap is as follows:

Year.	Winner.	A. Wt.	Jockey.	Val.	Time.
1904	Israelite	3	Shilling	$1,625	1:46:2
1905	Cederstrom	3	W. Miller	1,700	1:47
1906	Coy Maid	4	Garnier	1,690	1:46:2
1907	Mast. Robert	2	G. Burns	1,650	1:47

Lane Allen continued his succession of triumphs and disposed of Right Royal in easy fashion in the fifth race. The latter was the favorite and the leader to the stretch, where Lane Allen went right by him and the best he could do was to beat Tommy Waddell out for second place.

Fifteen maiden two-year-olds contested the last race of the day and at the end of a hot finish, D. D. was first by a head from Bolando, with Miramar a close-up but tiring third.

R. F. Carman will start two carloads of racers on their long journey across the continent Monday. G. Burns, the stable's jockey, will not leave until Wednesday. Mr. Carman himself will be at Oakdale on the opening day and expects to have three or more starters engaged during the afternoon.

Lady Winifred was so fresh and full of life after the finish of the two-year-old stake that she unseated her rider and cantered back to the scales. McDaniel was compelled to walk across the field. This entailed a long delay before the "all weighed in" signal could be given.

Jockey Walter Miller won his first mount on every day of the present meeting excepting Friday, when he won the second race. Every horse was a pronounced favorite excepting Suffrage, which was a heavily backed second choice.

Three distinguished members of the Jockey Club, Harry Payne Whitney, H. K. Knapp and James W. Wadsworth, saw today's racing.

Jockey Finn was suspended for the remainder of the meeting by starter Cassidy.

Jesse Lewisohn is yet very ill and confined to his apartment at Sherry's.

"RED" WALKER TIRED OF LYCURGUS.

"Red" Walker is much dissatisfied over the poor riding of his colored boy, Lycurgus, and is making an effort to find a good light boy for this winter.

"Red" is trying to get Charlie Moreland for the remainder of the season. Moreland is at home at present. "That boy of mine is all to the bad," said Walker after Lycurgus pulled up all the way on Mattie H. "He isn't sick and plays around the stable, but has no energy when he gets on a horse. I believe the other riders have got him cowed. He certainly did not ride this way up north."

MADDEN BUYS COUNTESS WANDA.

Lexington, Ky., October 26.—J. E. Madden has bought Mrs. Straus' interest in the young broodmare Countess Wanda, by Loyalist—Wanda, by Montero, and now is sole owner of the mare and her weanling colt. Countess Wanda is a half-sister to Maxine Elliott, the dam of the fast filly Come-diene.

MADDEN WILL SELL BROODMARES.

J. E. Madden will sell thirty-five mares at the Fasig-Tipton Company's thoroughbred sales at Lexington, Ky., reducing this branch of the breeding interest at Hamburg Place to something like seventy-five or eighty head.

CLOTH TAKES THE BALTIMORE CUP.

Backed Heavily, He Wins Pimlico Feature—Buckman Defeated in Steeplechase.

Baltimore, Md., October 26.—A large attendance, big fields and splendid racing marked the opening of the fall meeting at Pimlico today. A full card of seven races, each of which was full of interest, held the crowd until sundown. Speculation was lively, and the thirty-four bookmakers had all they could attend to in handling the money offered them. The features of the program were the Baltimore Cup for gentlemen riders, the Hotel Kerman purse and the steeplechase. Society folks were out in full force, attracted by the cup race and the steeplechase, which always appeal to the people of this section.

Cloth seemed to stand out in the gentlemen riders' race, and from an opening of 6 to 5 was backed to 1 to 2. He won the race handily, coming away in the stretch after Notre Knip had set a warm pace. Cloth was ridden by Mr. T. Wright, who is a great favorite here.

The Hotel Kerman purse went to R. W. Walden's good horse, Lotus Eater, which is just now in great shape. Cave Adams had a slight call in the betting, but failed to finish in the money. Lally and Sunnie, two outsiders, came second and third respectively.

The steeplechase furnished a cracking good contest and the big crowd had a chance to work off some of its surplus enthusiasm. Buckman was the favorite here, but, after showing in the front rank for most of the way, faded at the finish as if short. Dion Kerr's old broadwinner, Follow On, nicely ridden by Archibald, proved the winner.

Both Guido and his owner, W. H. Babb, were prominent figures in the racing of the middle west.

At Washington Park, July 11, 1891, with 117 pounds up, and Overton riding, he defeated Allan Bane, Brandollette, Jugurtha, Prettivit and Conqueror in a race at mile heats, in which he made a record that stands to this day, the first mile being run in 1:41 1/2, and the second in 1:41. That year he competed with the best horses in the west and held his own nobly with such horses as Aloha, Nero, Prince Fortunatus, Kenwood, Ormie, Bankrupt, Big Three, Ernest's Race, Rival, Kingman, Ed Leonard and others well known to patrons of the track at that time.

Guido was even better in 1892, right at the top of the western handicap horses and a stake winner, although Babb did not enter him in any fixed events.

He defeated Verge d'Or, Gayoso, Aloha, Come to Taw, Oregon Eclipse, Highland and four more for the Memorial Handicap at St. Louis and at the same place won the Cyclone Stakes from Oregon Eclipse, Aloha, Bolivar Buckner and three others. But most of his races were for overnight handicaps and condition purses over the St. Louis and Chicago tracks.

With a lesser measure of success he raced fairly well in 1893 and 1894, but was not able to win a race in 1895. Here is his record:

Few people conversant with Chicago racing of the World's Fair year have forgotten Maid Marian. She was a great favorite locally and one of the stars that gave Chris Smith his brief high tide of popularity. Her speed was of the highest order, and when the occasion arrived she demonstrated that she could stay far as well as run fast. In the years that came after her track career she had a half-brother gifted with the same great speed. This was Allan-a-Dale. Maid Marian first raced for Lee Christy, then for T. C. McDowell, from whom she passed to Smith, and thereafter raced as the property of the Kendall Stable. Her twelve races won when a two-year-old at Chicago, St. Paul and Nashville were all purses.

Maid Marian was a high-class three-year-old. She won the Milldale Stakes at Latonia from The Sculptor, Gaseon, Alary, Linger and Quiver, and the Merchants' Stakes from Yo Tambien, Newton and Miss Dixie. At Washington Park she won four purse races, in which she defeated among others Ida Pickwick, Diablo, Buck McCann, Santa Anna and Guido, all Crackers. She ran third to Helen Nichols and Crate Vela for the Queen Isabella Stakes, and was second to Morello in the most sensational Wheeler Handicap ever run. At Hawthorne she won the Illinois Stakes from Hawthorne, Morello and Ingomar. In one of her races at Washington Park she defeated the Brooklyn Handicap winner, Diablo, at a mile and twenty yards in 1:40, and now shares with Mae and Six Shooter the honor of holding the record at that distance. Out of eighteen races that year she won eleven and was but twice unplaced.

She was a good race mare in 1894, and won at St. Louis, Washington Park, Saratoga, Jerome Park and Nashville, but all of her winning races were for purses. In 1895 she won eight races out of thirteen starts, all overnight handicaps and condition purses. She was killed by an accident in fall, and her achievements were as follows:

Maid Marian, ch. m. (1890), by Great Tom—Sudie McNairy.

Year. Age. Sts. 1st. 2d. 3d. Unp. Won.

1892 2 29 12 5 3 0 $5,875

Celebration won no great fame as a racer, yet there was a time when he frequently had the support of Chicago patrons of racing. That was in 1904, when he won some excellent races over local tracks. Infirm legs relegated him to the division of humble selling platters, but nature meant him to be a good race horse and when just right, he was capable of running a fast race in good company. Some question as to his career having arisen his record is presented here:

Celebration, ch. g. (1900), by Clear the Way—Jubilation.

Year. Age. Sts. 1st. 2d. 3d. Unp. Won.

1902 2 1 0 0 1 1

1903 3 2 0 0 0 2

1904 4 32 7 6 3 16 2,880

1905 5 24 3 6 1 14 1,385

1906 6 33 3 6 6 18 1,490

SAIN NOT SOLD TO MR. KEENE.

The report that Sain has been or is to be sold to Mr. Keene turns out to be a characteristic Lexington canard, as the following dispatch to Daily Racing Form from Mr. Schreiber shows conclusively:

Bridgeton, Mo., October 26, 1907.

Rumor started at Lexington. Never spoke to any of Mr. Keene's people. Nothing to it.

B. Schreiber.

MILAM'S STABLE WINDS UP SEASON.

Lexington, Ky., October 26.—J. C. Milam will ship his stable home at the closing of the present meeting with Latonia, and will do no early winter racing with them, though early in the spring he may take a few performers south to get them in shape for early racing up the line in 1908. At Latonia Milam's horses won more races than those from the stable of any other trainer that has raced at the Kenton County track this fall.

STARTER DWYER WILL MARRY.

It is reported that before he takes up his work at Oakdale, it is said he will wed Miss Grace Finley of Los Angeles, with whom he became acquainted last winter while at Ascot Park. The wedding is to take place soon at the home of the bride's mother in that city.

SOME GOOD RACERS OF PAST YEARS.

Review of the Careers of Horses Well Known to Chicagoans.

In the year 1889 three two-year-olds of great merit made their debut in California. Their names were Flambeau, Racine and Guido. Of the three Flambeau was probably best, and Racine held Guido safe, although Guido defeated him in their first race. This was in the Debut Stakes at San Jose, won by Pliny, with Guido second and Racine third. But Racine was not ripe then. Three days later he defeated Guido and Pliny in the Mayor Stakes, Guido being second and Pliny third. Two days afterward he again defeated Guido in the Lick House Stakes, Guido being second and Pliny third. All of these races were at San Francisco; it was Racine first and Guido second in the California Stakes and again in the So So Stakes.

But Guido was a smasher as a race horse, and the next year when a three-year-old earned the distinction of winning more races than any other horse in the United States. These races were mainly in California, the northwest and Texas, but late in the year he made his appearance at the Nashville (Tenn.) November meeting, and won two races there.

The next year he was introduced to patrons of racing at St. Louis and Chicago, and it was not long until Guido and his owner, W. H. Babb, were prominent figures in the racing of the middle west.

At Washington Park, July 11, 1891, with 117 pounds up, and Overton riding, he defeated Allan Bane, Brandollette, Jugurtha, Prettivit and Conqueror in a race at mile heats, in which he made a record that stands to this day, the first mile being run in 1:41 1/2, and the second in 1:41.

That year he competed with the best horses in the west and held his own nobly with such horses as Aloha, Nero, Prince Fortunatus, Kenwood, Ormie, Bankrupt, Big Three, Ernest's Race, Rival, Kingman, Ed Leonard and others well known to patrons of the track at that time.
